

Seeking the Guidance of the Spirit

Bobby Harrington

October 19th, 2025

1. Start the group by asking people to share their personal highlight from the last week and why it was important to you?
2. Ask group members: What are you finding most beneficial in the church's current study on the Holy Spirit and the spiritual world and why?
3. Invite everyone to take a few minutes to review the handout from the sermon, "Is the Spirit Still Speaking?" (available at harpethcc.com/Harpeth-Hub "Holy Spirit Handout"). Have them break into groups of two or three to read through the document together and discuss how they each scored. Give about 10 minutes for this small-group time, then bring everyone back together to share key insights or highlights with the larger group.
4. Read through each part of the other side of the document, "Seeking the Guidance of the Spirit." . Then ask the question, "What is helpful to you in this document and why?" It may be helpful to check out a few of the scriptures listed.
5. How can we each use this handout in the upcoming week and find a time of meaningful personal prayer, where we can also "ask God to speak to each of us through his spirit"? Share any thoughts they might have about committing to this process this coming week -pro or con - and why?
6. How can we be praying for each other this upcoming week?
